

Discriminations and LGBTI individuals

The policy of discrimination based on gender or sexual orientation, was and remains unacceptable. For us, the right of people to choose their sexual orientation is absolutely respected. In modern conditions is unacceptable the attitude of conservative circles, who are treating LGBTI individuals as marginal and not as equal.

Policy positions:

- The education system should develop a culture of acceptance of the choice of sexual orientation.
- State should conduct campaigns to combat stereotypes and prejudices against LGBTI people.
- Ensuring the right to legal recognition of gender identity.
